Occasionally write articles for major newspapers/periodicals on sports business or legal issues. Such pieces have appeared since 1986 in The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, The Los Angeles Times, The St. Louis Post Dispatch, The New Orleans Times-Picayune, USA Today, The Sporting News, The National Law Journal, and several smaller newspapers (via wire services).

Have appeared regularly since 1986 on news and talk shows on local (in at least 15 major cities), regional, & national television and radio concerning sports business and legal issues. Television appearances have included ESPN's Sportscenter and Outside the Lines, ABC World News Tonight, the CBS Evening News, NBC Nightly News, ABC's Nightline, The Today Show on NBC, and the McNeil-Lehrer News Hour.

Consult frequently with, and frequently quoted in, national publications and newspapers in many major cities on sports business and legal issues.

Deliver papers, lectures, or speeches several times every year throughout the world at academic or professional conferences, public forums, and/or continuing education programs, primarily on topics relating to law as it impacts the sports industry. Presentations since 1997 (I didn't keep track before then) include:

- ▶ Every year since 1994 to the present (except in 2012), deliver the opening 90-120 minute "Overview of Recent Developments in Sports Law" at the annual three-day conference of the Sports Lawyers Association in late May/early June, each year in a different city. [Note: In conjunction with this lecture every year, I prepare a lengthy (often 100-page+) document summarizing the events of the prior year, which is published on the SLA web site and made available to SLA's over 1,200 members.]
- ▶ Every year since 2009 to the present (except for 2014), deliver a 60-minute talk to the commissioners and general counsel of the 50 state high school athletic federations at the April conference of the National Association of High School Federations, in Indianapolis, on recent legal developments relevant to high school sports..
